

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: August 28, 2013

CONTACT: Kimberly Larson, 623-930-2989, Public Information Office

GLENDALÉ OFFERS FREE SEED SAVING CLASS SEPTEMBER 28

Glendale, Ariz. — Learn about Seed Swap Saturdays at the Glendale Main Library and how to save seeds from your garden to replant from year to year and share with friends!

The class is offered on Saturday, Sept. 28, 1- 2:30 p.m. at the Glendale Main Library, 5959 W. Brown St. and coordinated by the Glendale Conservation and Sustainable Living Office in partnership with the Glendale Main Library and the Valley Permaculture Alliance.

Attendees will learn valuable information about gardening, including ways to prevent unwanted cross-pollination, general seed-saving information as well as specific techniques for a variety of common garden crops that work for our climate.

For a complete list of fall “Green Living” classes, visit www.glendaleaz.com/green.

Classes are free, but advance registration is required. Call 623-930-3760 or email bpatrick@glendaleaz.com to register.

###